June issue arrives May 30.

You only live once (but hopefully not too long)

Brian Lee

People in their 40s and 50s face a dilemma.

It's the question of retirement savings and how much enjoyment and adventure should be sacrificed now to ensure a secure old age.

We all ponder the concept when we make our first RRSP deposit but a special urgency kicks in when we realize that age 65, the traditional retirement milestone, is just down the block.

Suddenly the puzzle of financial planning isn't abstract anymore because the math gets really easy.

By the age of 50, we've established a pattern of income and spending that makes it pretty easy to predict our savings in 15 years.

For many, it's bad news.

A 2017 RBC survey found that one in six Canadians aged 55 or older hasn't started saving for retirement.

According to Statscan, the percentage of British Columbians who contribute to RRSPs hovers around 21.2 per cent.

Some who find themselves on their retirement savings might be lucky enough to have the option of cashing in their home equity and moving to a less expensive property.

But unless you're exiting the Lower Mainland, options for relocating real estate holdings to a cheaper market are limited.

The average home on the Coast costs $610,000 while it runs to over $1.25 million in North Vancouver.

You could move to Prince George where the average price drops to $347,000, or Campbell River where it hits $457,000.

Others missed the housing market entirely — or divorced away a house or two — and accept they might have to work until they die.

But, what if you don't die? According to Statscan, Canadians

According to Statscan, Canadians are living an average of 82 years.

That's an increase of almost 25 years since 1921.

By 2050, the typical retirement years might stretch to three decades or more — a scary thought for those in the YOLO camp.

(Mom: YOLO is an acronym for "You only live once.")

Because we're not frugal.

In 1980, the ratio of Canadian household debt to personal disposable income was 66 per cent.

That ratio recently passed 170 per cent — meaning that for every dollar Canadians earn after taxes, we now owe $1.70.

As middle age delivers daily physical reminders that there will be an end to our productive working years, we're encouraged to double down on our RRSP contributions.

But at the same time, as the question of how much one needs to retire becomes clearer, so too does the fact that some of our peers won't be joining us.

In their 40s and 50s, people around us start accumulating health problems — some even die.

And there lies the paradox.

Will you regret that impulsive trip you took to Italy in your 40s, or 20s, while sitting in the cancer ward in your 60s?

Each funeral we attend reinforces the clichéd wisdom of, "You can't take it with you."

So wager the future comforts of expensive care aides, assisted living and medication and have that richer, fuller life.

Take the kids to Disneyland. Buy the good flooring. Have scallops on your steak. Just don't outlive your money.

P. H. LEGION TRIVIA NIGHT: Friday, May 10, 7 p.m.

Hosted by those book nerds at Harbour Publishing, this trivia night is sure to be both challenging and fun. Rumour has it that the "all-nighter" challenge could be a special crossword puzzle. Teams of five compete for glory while all proceeds go to the Pender Harbour May Day celebration on the following weekend. Trivia starts at 7 p.m. but get there much earlier to order the Legion's famous — and popular — fish and chips.

74TH ANNUAL PENDER HARBOUR MAY DAY: Saturday, May 18, 8 a.m.

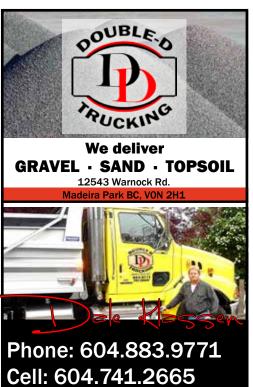

It doesn't get any bigger than this (in our community). Activities run all day long in downtown Madeirs Park (see poster p. 18) with the May Day parade at 11 a.m. The theme for this year's May Day is "Space Exploration."

PENDER HARBOUR & AREA RESIDENTS ASSOCIATION TOWN HALL MEETING: Saturday, May 25, 2 p.m.

Come out to the Pender Harbour and Area Residents Association (formerly Pender Harbour Advisory Council) to Spring town hall meeting on Saturday, May 25 at 2 p.m. at the Pender Harbour Community Hall in Madeira Park.

For more information visit www.phara.ca. The website includes a new online membership renewal form. Members will note an increase in the annual individual membership fee from $5 to $10 and the lifetime membership to $100. PHARA has increased its membership rates to reflect the substance of some of the projects they are undertaking such as derelict vessels and dock management, as well as improving beach access and cleaning up in our environment.

18th annual April Tools boat building competition, April 27

all photos: Brian Lee

The 'twist' this year, revealed to teams at 10 a.m., was a simulation of being washed up on an isolated island, left only with an unusual pile of materials to get back home. All materials, except those that could fit into a small bag and left behind, were required to make the trip with the competitors — including a Wilson beach ball à la the movie Castaway. Here in the first heat, a battle for last place came down to the BC Fairies and the Goring in Style team (r), which won the Broken Paddle award for 'persevering in the face of overwhelming difficulties.'

The Fireflies (Garden Bay Fire Hall's Ray Miron and Sawyer Cote) won the final for the umpteenth time. Not pictured are teammates Kerry Rand and Bruno Cote.

Sabotage is common in the youth division 'fun' race.

The agony of defeat is real at April Tools.

A chaotic start to the final race saw an early collision between the eventual first and second place finishers.

Past champions the Gunboat Bay Challengers, with a three-person crew, had to accept second place in the final.

The Beaver Island Bandits won the Spiffy Skiffy award for nicest looking boat.

Pender Harbour's Fuse Work Hub offers a modern work space

Madeira Park is the latest spot on the Sunshine Coast to receive a communal work space.

The Fuse community work hub opened at the Harbour Spirit Centre (Sunshine Coast Highway and Madeira Park Road) on April 15.

A community work hub is described on the Fuse website as "a modern co-working space for independent workers, creatives, and entrepreneurs living in, or visiting, the Sunshine Coast."

The Fuse facility includes highspeed internet access, a meeting room that will hold up to eight people, high quality printer and office equipment and a kitchen area stocked with Strait Coffee and an assortment of teas.

Participants pay a monthly membership or drop-in fee to use the facility.

In January, the Sunshine Coast Regional Economic Development Organization announced a Coast-wide expansion of their Fuse community work hub program which would see two locations opened in Sechelt and Pender Harbour.

"Our mandate is to be a regional organization that serves all neighbourhoods on the Sunshine Coast," said David Chisholm, SCREDO chair, in a press release.

While finishing touches were still being applied to Pender Harbour's Fuse Work Hub on its opening day, every desk was occupied.

"We are excited to expand Fuse to these additional locations and offer greater flexibility to entrepreneurs and nonprofits."

The Pender Harbour Fuse is an 800-square-foot space that sits above the Corner Café.

SCREDO installed a 700-squarefoot work hub in Gibsons four years ago which will soon double in size to accommodate demand.

For $160 per month, members receive unlimited access to the three Fuse locations on the Coast.

SCREDO currently offers new members an "early bird special" — a discounted rate of $106.66 per month for a limited time.

According to the Fuse website, members can book the boardroom to host meetings, which can include nonmembers.

Those interested can sign up for a membership at fuseworkhub.ca

The Sunshine Coast Regional Economic Development Organization is a non-profit society formed in 2016 to carry out economic development activities on behalf of the Town of Gibsons, the District of Sechelt. the Sechelt Indian Government District and the Sunshine Coast Regional District.

Local Rotary club hosts first Russian exchange student

The Rotary Club of Pender Harbour has been busy in past years sponsoring exchange students from all over the world and this past school year has been no different.

In September, 15-year-old Diana Savenkova arrived from Magadan, Russia, to complete Grade 11 at Pender Harbour Secondary School.

It wasn't an easy trip — she had to wait in Moscow for several days while her Canadian travel visa was resolved with the help of MP Pamela Goldsmith-Jones staff.

Savenkova turned 16 shortly after arriving and will finish the school year here in a Grade 11 class made up of only six other girls and four boys.

Magadan is a port city in eastern Russia with a population of 100,000.

It sits at a latitude of 59 degrees, which crosses BC just 13 kilometres below the Yukon border.

Magadan's main industries are fishing and gold mining.

The nearest city is over 2,000 kilometres away via a gravel highway best travelled in winter when the road and rivers are frozen.

According to Wikipedia, during the Stalin era, Magadan was a major transit centre for prisoners sent to forced-labour mining camps in the region.

The city later served as a port for exporting gold and other metals mined in the Kolyma region.

While Rotary International accepts Russian students into its youth exchange program, no Rotary students have ever been sent into Russia.

Rotary spokesman Mike Price told the Harbour Spiel that he believes Savenkova is the first Russian youth exchange student in Rotary district 5040, an area that includes most of BC including the Lower Mainland.

Diana Savenkova (m) is pictured here with the Stewart family, her second of two local host families. Savenkova, 16, is a Rotary Club exchange student from Magadan, Russia, who has been attending PHSS since she arrived on Sept. 13. Attack of Danger Bay downhill longboard race runs May 19

After announcing its cancellation last month, organizer Bricin Lyons has confirmed that the 18th annual Attack of Danger Bay downhill longboard race is back on.

The event weekend starts on May Day — May 18 — in Madeira Park with the annual skateboard hockey tournament from 10 a.m.to 1 p.m.

Early the next morning, the longest running downhill longboard race in the world begins on Francis Peninsula.

This year, for the first time, the defending champion is a local — Dane Hanna.

Hanna has had two successful seasons on the world cup circuit and returns home to defend his title at ADB 18.

Brian Lee

The action will be heated at 'Carnage Corner' once again as nearly 200 racers vie for the coveted title of Attack of Danger Bay champion.

Hanna will be joined by a dozen or so other local racers from Team Irene and Team Green to challenge the best in the world.

There is no parking near the race site but spectators can catch the free shuttle bus leaving the Oak Tree Market in Madeira Park every half-hour.

Locals nominated for Independent Music Awards

The biggest music awards show you might never have heard of has included two Madeira Parkers on its 2019 list of nominees.

The 17th Independent Music Awards recently announced nominations for local jazz guitarist Tony Koch and producer Jay O'Keefe.

According to its website, the IMAs "honour the year's most exceptional self-released and indie label projects from around the globe — in all styles and mediums."

Tony Koch and The AltNews Band are nominated for best funk/ fusion/jam recording for their album Funk Jazz From Planet Earth.

Koch and partner Katrina Bishop have two children attending PHSS.

His website is www.tonykoch.ca.

Producer O'Keefe's work with the Orchid Ensemble is nominated in three categories:

- Eclectic album of the year (Orchid Ensemble, From a Dream);
 - Eclectic song of the year (Orchid Ensemble, "Fire"), Jin Zhang composer, and

• Instrumental producer of the year — Jay O'Keeffe, Lan Tung and Jonathan Bernard.

The Orchid Ensemble previously picked up an IMA for eclectic song of the year for a track O'Keefe also produced.

O'Keefe lives in Madeira Park with wife Anna Comfort O'Keefe and has two young children.

O'Keefe told the Harbour Spiel that From a dream was recorded at Vancouver's Fader Studios but "mixed right here in view of Gunboat Bay."

The Orchid Ensemble's website is www.orchidensemble.com.

The IMAs recognize more than 450 album, EP, song, video and design projects from around the globe.

Winners will be announced June 22 at the Symphony Space Performing Arts Centre in New York City.

TRAFFIC COMPLAINT

On April 10, a witness reported being passed on a double-solid line while driving southbound on Highway 101 near Sakinaw Lake in Pender Harbour

The witness was able to provide a vehicle description as well as a licence plate and police located the suspect vehicle in Halfmoon Bay.

As the witness was willing to provide a statement, the suspect driver was issued a ticket for crossing over a double solid line.

The matter was referred to ICBC.

IMPAIRED DRIVER

On April 13, a witness reported a possible impaired driver on Highway 101 near Sans Souci Road, Halfmoon Bay, after the driver failed to successfully navigate a U-turn.

Police located the suspect vehicle parked in Madeira Park with the driver asleep inside holding an open bottle of alcohol.

The driver was roused and given a roadside alcohol screening test.

After two fail results, the driver was issued a 90-day roadside prohibition and his vehicle was impounded for 30 days.

The driver also received a ticket for not having a driver's licence and the matter has been referred to Road-SafetyBC.

MISCHIEF

Sometime in the past month, a suspect targeted several large machines and vehicles parked near Carlson Forest Service Road, Halfmoon Bay, in an attempt to strip them of copper wire, causing extensive damage in the process.

Anyone with any information about this mischief is asked to contact RCMP, reference police file number 2019-2141.

IMPAIRED DRIVER

On April 1, police attended a single-vehicle incident involving a possible impaired driver in the 5600 block of Egmont Road after witnesses reported that the lone driver had driven into a rock wall and attempted to continue driving the vehicle from the scene.

Police noted the driver, who said he consumed alcohol earlier in the day, was exhibiting signs of possible intoxication from alcohol.

The driver was given and failed a roadside alcohol screening test and was issued a 90-day roadside prohibition and his vehicle was impounded for 30 days.

The vehicle suffered extensive damage and was towed.

Waste program accepting applications

The Sunshine Coast Regional District is accepting applications for its 2019 waste reduction initiatives program.

Launched in 2015, the program has a total of $5,000 available for financial assistance to Sunshine Coastbased community groups and associations, non-profit societies, registered charitable organizations, S.D. 46 and school groups for projects that will reduce waste in the region.

The WRIP was introduced to support the initiatives of the SCRD's solid waste management plan.

Project categories considered for the program include:

- Community reuse and repair;
- Composting;
- Construction and demolition waste reduction, reuse and recycling;
 - Food waste reduction:
 - Green waste reduction, and
 - Recycling initiatives.

Applications must be received by midnight on Friday, May 24.

Successful applicants will be announced in June and subsequent projects must be completed, including a final report, by Dec. 31, 2019.

Prospective applicants are encouraged to visit www.scrd.ca/wrip, email infrastructure@scrd.ca or call (604) 885-6806.

SMALLEST TAX INCREASE

With finalization of 2019 property assessments, our SCRD budget was completed and our fiveyear plan updated.

I'm pleased to report that, at 2.8 per cent, Area A has the smallest combined average taxation, parcel tax and user fee increase of all rural areas.

These vary within Area A, dependent on assessed values and services provided.

For instance, the average for property owners within the Egmont Fire Protection District is 2.7 per cent, North Pender Harbour Water, 4.14 per cent and South Pender Harbour Water, 5.03 per cent.

You can use the online tax calculator at www.etax.gov.bc.ca/btp/ eservices (to be updated this month) and watch for notice of a local presentation on tax implications for Area A residents prepared by Tina Perrault, the SCRD's chief financial officer.

REMEDY FOR DERELICT VEHICLES

I joined most of the SCRD board in attending the Association of Vancouver Island Coastal Communities convention April 12-14 in Powell River.

We had submitted five resolutions for consideration — climate emergency declaration, logging in the urban interface, intergovernmental collaboration on land use planning, regulate and enforce vehicle parking on provincial roads and parking enforcement in rural areas.

I was tasked with introducing and defending the two parking resolutions, intended to allow parking on designated road stretches to fall under the SCRD's jurisdiction, allowing bylaw officers to enforce the rules.

Before the convention, these and two other resolutions were endorsed by the committee and carried.

The climate emergency declaration was debated at the convention, carried with only one opposing vote and subsequently won the AVICC Gold Star Resolution award.

Resolutions endorsed at this level are submitted to the Union of BC Municipalities for consideration.

PODS REZONING STATUS

Last month the planning and development committee heard presentations from two Irvines Landing residents and a report from the senior planner about the proposed rezoning of the Pender Harbour Ocean Discovery Station property, owned by the Ruby Lake Lagoon Society.

David Twentyman provided a background of the area and outlined neighbor's concerns about rezoning, including increased traffic, parking, and road infrastructure.

Barbara Kappeli expressed concern that the project would block her view.

This kind of healthy debate ensures that all points of view are expressed and considered prior to a final decision.

After debate, the committee recommended that the proposed bylaw 337 and official community plan amendments proceed to second reading and a public hearing to be held May 14 at the Pender Harbour Community Hall.

Lori Pratt, the director for Halfmoon Bay, will chair the hearing with me as alternate chair.

Although the procedure seems cumbersome and lengthy, it's necessary for everyone's voice to be heard in an open, transparent process.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

John Farquhar organized a work group to clean up the Sarah Wray Hall last month.

Dave Milligan, Ron Hunter, Bob Fielding and I tidied up the yard, took truckloads of debris to the dump and Bob's backhoe saved us considerable manual labour in leveling out an area in front of the workshop and some other heavy lifting.

Working with these volunteers reminded me how much we depend on them and take for granted their role in our community infrastructure.

Volunteer groups maintain the Pender, Egmont, Lions, Sarah Wray, and Legion halls, P. H. School of Music, Egmont Museum, Reading Centre, and more.

They help us form bonds with neighbours new and old, offer us entertainment and recreation, enrich our lives with courses and workshops for fun and skill development, and contribute to our economy by attracting visitors to events such as May Day and the blues festival.

In short, they help make our area a pleasure to live in and they all deserve our appreciation and support.

Brenda Scoular leads the effort to revitalize the cemetery on Warnock Road, owned and operated by trustees of the Forest View Cemetery, a local not-for-profit.

The project's first phase was removal of danger trees, a property-line survey and a big cleanup.

Volunteers are now building a fence and plan to install a new gate, restore water and clean up the gravesites.

The group entered into a partnership with the Pender Harbour Living Heritage Society to accept donations to buy materials, so if you'd like to help, please call Brenda at (604) 741-4394.

ATTACK OF DANGER BAY 18

In 2001, Bricin Lyons started and grew the Danger Bay longboard races into the largest event of its type, bringing competitors with their families, friends, and sponsors to Pender Harbour for this world-class event.

Now, "Danger" Dane Hanna and Scott "Scoot" Smith represent not just Pender Harbour but all of Canada at international events.

Hanna recently competed in Australia and the Philippines, but he'll be back home for Danger Bay 18 — May 19.

obituary

Agnes 'Moni' (Hansen) Langham MARCH 10, 1932 - SEPTEMBER 30, 2018

After a short battle with cancer, Moni Langham died at Surrey Memorial Hospital on Sept. 30.

Her final months and days were spent surrounded by her family.

Langham was born in Prince Rupert to Oisten and Magnhild Hansen but grew up in Vancouver.

She attended Point Grey High School and graduated from Fairview High School of Commerce in 1950.

After meeting George Langham (died March 12, 2010), they married Sept. 28, 1951.

They lived in south Vancouver and later moved to Pender Harbour after building their forever home in 1978.

She is survived by her four children, Les, Ron (Barb), Don (Kim) and Janice (Greg), eight grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, brother Robert Hansen (Marg), brother-in-law Ken Langham (Narbada), sister-in-law Marilyn Langham and many nieces, nephews and cousins.

Langham was active in her children's sports, attending many football and hockey games and was an avid five-pin bowler at Victoria Drive Bowling Alley for many years.

In Pender Harbour, she was well known in the community, especially at the bingo hall and the Legion.

Her best achievement was learning to golf at the Pender Harbour Golf Course where she remains the all-time ladies champion.

Langham was the supreme queen of rules.

Whether it was golf or card games she made sure everyone played by the book.

She was warm, outgoing and had an infectious smile and a willing ear.

She will be dearly missed by her family and friends.

Memorial donations can be made in her name to P. H. Health Centre at 5066 Francis Peninsula Rd, Madeira Park, BC, V0N 2H1 or P. H. Seniors Housing Society, Box 264, Madeira Park, BC, V0N 2H0.

William Malcolm Wray JULY 25, 1934 - FEBRUARY 15, 2019

Bill Wray died in Kamloops at Royal Inland Hospital on Feb. 15.

He was born in Pender Harbour. on July 25, 1934 and grew up at Irvine's Landing.

Wray began his working life as a logger and married Susan Malcolm on Dec. 15, 1956.

In the mid-1960's, Bill moved his young family to Terrace, where he began to work on power line construction projects, eventually becoming a certified lineman.

Early in the 1970s, the family moved to Kamloops.

Then, in the 1990s, the couple moved back to Terrace, where Wray worked for B.C. Hydro until retiring and returning to Kamloops.

Throughout his life, Wray retained the interests of his youth gardening, the love of nature, wood working and hunting (he continued this activity into his early 80s).

He made friends easily, always kept his word and, in keeping with his Christian faith, quietly served others, often anonymously.

When, after almost 60 years of marriage, Susan was diagnosed with ALS, Bill began one of his greatest acts of kindness, caring for Susan during the two years leading up to her death.

Bill is dearly missed but his family is comforted beleiving that he and Susan are with the Lord.

Wray was predeceased by his wife, Susan, his parents Charles and Margaret Wray, his brothers Len Wray, Wilfred (Tiff) Wray, Peter Wray and his sisters Florence Houseman, Margaret (Scottie) Cameron and Julia Reid.

He is survived by his children Corinne (Arnold), Rod (Debbie), by five grandchildren and six greatgrandchildren, by his sister Muriel Cameron of Madeira Park and by his sisters-in law Carol (Mike) Mulvahill, Linda (Zorro) Szabados, Rosemary (Martin) Odermatt and by brothers-inlaws Ronald (Patti) Malcolm, David (Jolanda) Malcolm, and John (Marie) Malcolm.

Those who knew Bill are invited to attend his interment at the Forest

View Cemetery on Saturday, May 11, at 1 p.m.

A tea at the Sarah Wray Hall will follow at 2 p.m.

Cooler colour codes indicate lower tides. For kayaks and small boats accessing Canoe Pass (Beaver Island), these colour codes (right) indicate what should usually provide sufficient depth for passage. Note: variability occurs due to barometric pressure, wind conditions, etc.

Davenia MortonMAY 18, 1936 - APRIL 14, 2019

Davenia Morton lost her struggle on April 14 at the age of 82, after being diagnosed with multiple myeloma in early 2018.

She was born in Vancouver.

As a girl, Morton was a figure skater, community queen and Girl Guide.

She married Reg Morton in 1954 and had four children — Stephen, Marlene, Darren and Sharon.

She was also blessed with six grandchildren — Jennifer, Michelle, Denise, Adam, Keith and Kyle plus six great grandchildren — Dylan, Isabella, Greyson, Avery, Novi and Mickael.

Davenia and Reg spent many years vacationing at Lowes Resort before becoming partners in the resort in 1984.

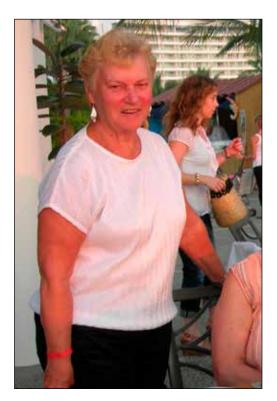

Davenia loved the lifestyle change from the city and was very involved in the tourism committees on and off the Coast.

After selling the resort, she remained in Madeira Park and was a volunteer with the seniors programs.

She was fortunate to travel and loved cruising and spending time in Puerto Vallarta.

In the later years she travelled to Mexico annually with her friend and travel companion Bev Macdonald.

A celebration of life will be held at the Pender Harbour Legion on May 25 starting at noon.

Sunshine Coast's swallows and bats — May 21

submitted

In our region, some of the most threatened wildlife groups are swallows and bats.

Both play vital ecological roles, and both are threatened by habitat loss and degradation, human disturbance and alarming declines in insect populations.

Bats face an additional terrifying threat due to white-nose syndrome, a devastating emerging wildlife disease already implicated in the deaths of millions of bats in eastern North America.

At the May 21 meeting of the Pender Harbour Wildlife Society, Michelle Evelyn will detail the current situation facing swallows and bats and describe how community members can get involved in monitoring and stewardship activities to benefit these species.

Evelyn is a professional biologist with an MSc and PhD from Stanford University.

She is also a research affiliate with the UBC Biodiversity Research Centre and a member of the BC Bat Action Team.

Her work has always focused on balancing the needs of humans and wildlife.

For the past 12 years, with husband David Stiles, Evelyn has led the Sunshine Coast Wildlife Project with a goal to help conserve, restore, and enhance wildlife habitat and take direct action to ensure the survival of species at risk on the Sunshine Coast.

The May 21 meeting of the PHWS will take place at Pender Harbour Secondary School at 7 p.m.

Stay on for refreshments and informal chat on all wildlife and stewardship subjects and updates.

MAY ASTROLOGY

TAURUS: APRIL 19 - MAY 20

Taureans are seekers of peace and stability. Although unambitious, they are happy to be the powerhouse behind the scenes. They are usually sensible and blessed with a healthy dose of cynicism. April brings a sense of existential dread to those Taureans born between April 23 and May 2. (If you live with such a Taurus, be prepared for months of difficulty.) Taureans' bad attitudes will be exceedingly off-putting. Those around them will do well to distance themselves from Taureans until May's new moon.

GEMINI: MAY 21 - JUNE 21

Geminis are butterflies by nature, flitting from one attraction to the next. They're easily bored but have lively, stimulating minds and can be witty and charming. Geminis find it difficult to tolerate fake friends so they have few. Their tolerance will be especially tested this month when a previously trusted friend will be revealed to be a backstabbing shit. Fall back on family — they may also be jerks but at least they are trustworthy jerks with your best interest in mind.

26 weeks to emergency preparedness

Susan Campbell

Emergency preparedness week is May 4 to 10.

The following is a guide to help get better prepared for emergiencies.

WEEK 1: Get a portable container with a lid to use as an emergency kit.

A plastic storage bin or garbage can works well, particularly one with wheels.

Make sure all family members know what it will be used for and where it is.

WEEK 2: Stock your kit with a seven-day supply of water, and don't forget to include water for your pets.

You need four litres of water per person per day — two for drinking and two for food preparation and hygiene.

WEEK 3: Arrange an out of area phone contact person and keep this and other emergency phone numbers near each telephone.

Teach each family member these numbers.

WEEK 4: Stock your kit with several varieties of canned meat and dried fruit

Include a manual can opener.

Also, add a small portable stove and a few pots and pans for cooking or heating water.

WEEK 5: Get a portable radio and batteries for your emergency kit.

WEEK 6: Learn about hazards.

Find out what the hazards are in your community and do a home hazard hunt to make your home safer.

Secure appliances and heavy furniture and move beds away from heavy mirrors and windows.

WEEK 7: Give every family member specific safety tasks to do in an emergency.

For example, designate one person to be in charge of turning off electricity, one to collect emergency, one to take charge of any pets, etc.

Add peanuts and granola bars to your kit.

WEEK 8: Identify safe places in your home and on your property.

Plan and practice evacuation drills using two different escape routes from each room.

Add containers of juice or juice crystals to your kit.

WEEK 9: Stock your kit with both large and medium-sized plastic garbage bags (orange or yellow make good visible signals).

Large bags can also be used a ponchos, ground covers or blankets.

Add plastic or paper dishes.

WEEK 10: Identify a family meeting place away from home but close to your regular spots (between work and home or school).

Add some books, toys and cards to your kit.

WEEK 11: Add a flashlight and extra batteries, along with candles and waterproof matches.

WEEK 12: Add some dried soups, crackers and peanut butter to your emergency kit.

WEEK 13: Check your insurance policies and make records of your possessions.

WEEK 14: Prepare a first-aid kit that includes extra prescription medication, extra eyeglasses, bandages, sterile gauze pads, tape, scissors, tweezers, antibiotic ointment, hydrogen peroxide and over-the-counter pain pills.

WEEK 15: Add a change of clothing for each family member.

Be sure to add warm clothing, heavy work gloves and sturdy shoes.

WEEK 16: Add some canned food like stews, baked beans and vegetables to your kit.

WEEK 17: Enrol a family member in a first-aid course.

WEEK 18: Add personal toiletry items like toilet paper, wet wipes, soap, detergent, toothbrush, toothpaste, comb, sanitary supplies, etc to your emergency kit.

WEEK 19: Add evaporated canned or powdered milk and cereal to your kit.

WEEK 20: If needed, include infant supplies including disposable diapers, disposable bottles, formula, etc., to your emergency kit.

WEEK 21: Get a large bucket with tight-fitting lid to use as a toilet and put it with your emergency kit.

Use the bucket to store other emergency tools, like an axe, a folding shovel and rope.

WEEK 22: Add some freezedried or foil pouch food products like meats, soups, vegetables and stews.

WEEK 23: Add a pocket-knife (Swiss army style), cutlery, a whistle and a spare set of house and car keys to your container.

WEEK 24: Keep a leash or pet carrier near your kit and add a three-day supply of pet food.

WEEK 25: Add sleeping bags or blankets to your kit along with water purification tablets.

WEEK 26: Assemble important documents like wills, insurance papers, medical records, inventory of possessions, identification, etc. in a fireproof/waterproof container.

Add a family photo album to your emergency kit.

Once your emergency kit is assembled and your emergency plan is in place, don't forget to rotate and replace items as they expire.

The Shíshálh Nation's 'Strategic Land Use Plan'

Completed by the Sechelt Indian Band in 2007, the 110-page Strategic Land Use Plan intends to be "a living document for the land use planning within the Shíshálh Nation teritory."

Chapters of interest from the SLUP document will be excerpted in upcoming issues of the Harbour Spiel. To download the full document, visit www.shishalh.com/docuploads/forms-and-applications/A-Strategic-Land-Use-Plan-for-the-sh--sh--lh-Nation-1416417270-1.pdf.

Excerpted from the Sechelt Indian Band's "A Strategic Land Use Plan for the Shíshálh Nation."

4.1. GUIDING PRINCIPLES FOR PLANNING & MANAGEMENT OF LAND AND RESOURCES

GUIDANCE OF ANCESTORS AND ELDERS

All Shíshálh Nation land use planning and resource management activities shall be undertaken in a manner that is consistent with the teachings taught to us by our ancestors and elders.

RESPECT

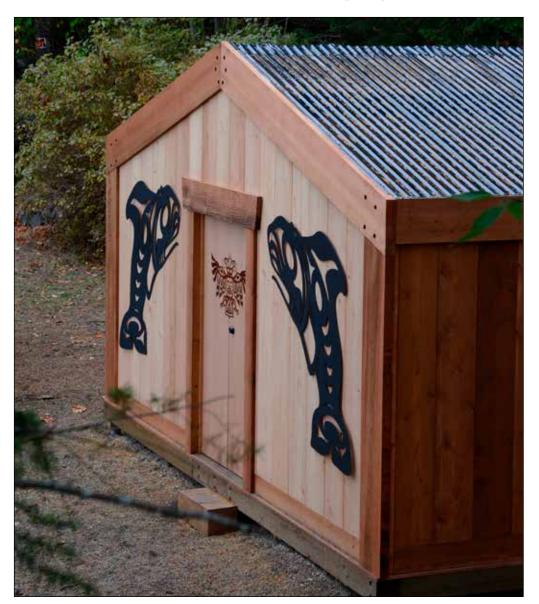

Shishalh Nation use and management of the land shall always reflect our deepest respect for the land and the interconnectedness of all things.

SUSTAINABILITY

Shíshálh Nation use and management of resources shall be guided by our commitment to sustainability both in the present and for all generations to come—which means maintaining diverse and abundant wildlife and ecosystems in perpetuity while providing for diverse cultural, social and economic activities that support a balanced, healthy, secure and sustainable quality of life.

SELF-RELIANCE

Our use and management of land and resources shall seek to increase the self-reliance of the shishálh Nation, so that we can support our own communities and others that have chosen to make our territory their home over the long term.

CULTURAL PRACTICES

Shíshálh Nation planning, use and management activities shall ensure that access is maintained for our people so that our cultural practices can continue unimpeded throughout our territory.

CULTURAL SITES

Sites of our past, current and future use and occupation of the territory shall be respected and preserved.

ECOSYSTEM-BASED APPROACH

Management of our Shíshálh Nation territory shall adopt a holistic, ecosystem-based approach that considers the entire ecosystem in determining use of specific areas and setting harvest rates that focus on what to leave behind, rather than what to take.

CAPACITY BUILDING

We shall strive to provide opportunities for members of the Shíshálh Nation, particularly the youth, to build their skills and experience in management of lands and resources, so that they and all future generations continue to act as stewards of our territory.

KNOWLEDGE

Shíshálh Nation planning and management approaches for land and resources shall incorporate both our own cultural and local knowledge as well as western science-based understandings.

SPACE AND TIME

Shíshálh Nation planning and management approaches shall take into account multiple spatial scales and time frames, and seek to maintain or increase resilience in the face of critical and long-term issues such as climate change.

PRECAUTION

A precautionary approach shall be adopted for land planning and management, so that decisions err on the side of caution when information is limited.

CONSENT

Development of land and resources shall only proceed when the risks of impacts on our territory are well understood and accepted by the Shíshálh Nation.

BENEFITS

The Shíshálh Nation shall benefit fairly from development and use of land and resources within our territory.

MONITORING

The condition of the land and resources across Shíshálh Nation territory shall be monitored, and knowledge of trends and responses to change shall be incorporated into future decision-making through adaptive management.
